Now no need for extracting decayed painful teeth or root canal or implant or even dental surgery. Toothache CAN BE TREATED WITHOUT EVEN drilling the decayed painful tooth and the dental patient can chew with the decayed tooth normally and comfortably.

Methodology

Now how does this treatment work in a decayed tooth?

This Miracle -32 Dental Treatment is a process which comprises of

1.Reconditioning:

During this process the size, shape, position and direction of the teeth are modified with respect to each other and their relating bone. All in all, the chewing forces / masticatory forces are altered to stabilize them, so that when the patient chews, it becomes easier and more comfortable. This is because the forces get balanced.

This process can be done manually using the air rotor and dental drill. It can also be done using cutting edge technology available using T-SCAN, EMG and JVR. With the help of these technology tools, we can register the chewing forces /bite forces on the computer, the condition and strength of the chewing/ masticatory muscles and the condition of the temporomandibular joints / jaw joints, which together help the person to chew food from both sides of the mouth effectively and efficiently.

To do the Re conditioning, we need an OPG X-Ray and CBCT Scans of the teeth, which help us study the size, shape, position and direction of the teeth, with respect to each other and to their relating bone structures.

2.Neuromuscular Stimulations:

This is a type of acupressure massage given to the facial apparatus, internally and externally. Whenever there is dental pain, there may be infection. When infection increases, a swelling develops on the face, it may be intra-oral, extra oral or both. Conventional dental treatment involves root canal treatment, extraction or even sometimes surgery. When we do these facial acupressure massages, the infection drains out through the tissue spaces in between the teeth and the pain, infection and swelling reduces and localises. During this process, we are using Reiki effectively, wherein the patient goes into a Trans or Semiconscious state. During this state, the body goes into an auto pilot self-healing mode. The patient relaxes completely. There is a feel-good feeling. There is positive transfer of energy in different parts of the body, only positive and good thoughts and this induces the person to become comfortable, relaxed and acceptance of treatment is without fear.

3.Prophylactic Treatment:

During this treatment, we train the patient for the correct ways and techniques of brushing, gargling, the proper brushing and the proper way to use the toothpaste. We also train the patient for the correct brushing timings necessary to keep their teeth clean and healthy. During this process, if necessary Scaling/ Dental professional cleaning of teeth is done to remove the tartar, calculus and food debris which gets deposited on the teeth and in between the teeth, the inaccessible areas, where the toothbrush cannot reach .We also teach the patient the correct flossing techniques which may be needed if the gaps in the teeth are considerable.

4.Chemical Treatment:

During this treatment, certain chemicals are deposited in the infected areas of the decayed painful teeth. These chemicals work in tandem with the saliva. The patient is supposed to hold the chemicals in the saliva of their mouth for periods ranging from 1 - 5 hours. These chemicals create a detox and desensitise the teeth. Hence even though the tooth is not filled, the patient can chew comfortably with the tooth, because the bacteria are unable to attack the teeth and demineralize them, due to non - availability of acid in the mouth. This is because, when the saliva mixes with the chemicals and enters different parts of the decayed tooth, it neutralizes the acid and creates a sound environment in the mouth, unfavourable for the teeth decaying bacteria.

5.Emotional Re conditioning Treatment:

In today's lifestyle people are under lot of physical and mental stress with pent up emotions for years together in their hearts, which may lead to improper dietary, food, sleeping habits and undesired thought processes and relating acidity in various parts of the body and various forms in the body.By doing these Counselling and Emotional Reconditioning sessions, we destress the person and regulate his or her thought patterns and processes, dietary patterns and processes and sleeping patterns and processes.

So overall well-being of the person concerned is restored. His metabolic activities of the body get regularised. There is a holistic relief and a feel-good factor. This takes care of the enzyme levels, acid-base levels, chemical levels and hormonal levels of the body. The person's lifestyle gets refined. Since acidity is now at bay, acid regurgitation and deposition from the stomach in the mouth is prevented and hence since acid is not available in the mouth, the teeth decaying bacteria cannot attack the teeth and decay and de-mineralize them. Result is the patient can happily chew with the decayed teeth, without doing root canal treatment or extractions.

6. Maintenance Therapy:

The decayed teeth which have not been filled or root canal not done, need proper maintenance to avoid food lodgement in the cavities and gaps in and around the teeth. For this proper brushing and gargling is essential. Along with this we also do Topical Fluoride Therapy to strengthen and remineralize the areas of the teeth which are demineralized, which may or may be accessible while brushing, gargling or flossing. We also provide the patient with Herbal Powders for hot water gargling. What does hot water gargling do? It increases the blood circulation in the infected areas, which in turn helps the stuck food debris to come out easily and improves the overall hygiene in the affected area, thus making gargling more effective. The moment food debris is cleansed regularly, with the proper brushing and flossing techniques, the infection reduces, the gums, teeth and bone become stronger and the gums become more intact, reducing food lodgement in the decayed and infected areas.

7. Follow -Up Treatment

During this treatment, we refine and re-establish the patients correct brushing and gargling techniques, so as to increase the longevity of the treatment done and save their decayed, painful teeth naturally. A patient may visit us once in 6 months to 2 years,
