

Collection of Science by Stephen Fletcher.

Stephen Lee Fletcher

Collection of Science
stephenfletcher004@yahoo.com

Black holes create worm holes and at high velocities create dark matter from one black hole to another. Some letting matter out creating white holes when disconnecting. $M=dm$ matter equals dark matter by the end of universe all the matter will be dark matter enough for universe to collapse. $E=c$ expand rip collapse creating a new universe. Like mitosis. I suspect that we are in a cell like universe. Like the cells below us are in a lower timed category or zone. Biology cells. Given that I suspect there are orangelles in a higher dimension in our universe. I suspect orangelles are pink in our universe. But we can't see them maybe with Franklin spectacle telescopes. Same with higher dimensions. String theory would be the cell or universe below us. Bio atoms would be the solar systems of bio cells. We're in a vortex I know like fusion but we are in the core. Time being the factor lower you are less time higher more time. Vortex has 6 categories or zones. I suspect that outside the universe it's silver until you get outside the vortex and the vortex is purple. The vortex ends as $ce=r$ collapse expand rip. Creating 6 more vortex's in differ dimensions. And a circle or sphere for vortex that was left behind. Yes creating the flower of life. After that it's scared geometry. I have increasing speculation of us being in a Metrons cube but our scared geometry is that of lack. Going into hyper diamond. Which I also founded. I suppose we're in a core which some might refer to as a staff. With white light around it and diamond for its essence. Creating the colors you find before you. Hortcrux even. Higher than that has nothing in science besides God that's gravity at an extreme level. Gravity shortly is easiest subject at this day and age thanks shortly due to Einstein and greatly cause of Issac. $G=T$ gravity equals time. Everything is alive. Even stars. Gravity can be money cause it pulls in people. It's human gravity. Everything has gravity. $E=t$ energy equals time. $M=t$ matter equals time. Heck even dark matter could be a higher dimension. Yes I'm referring to dead people cause everyone is afraid. We could see a bright light at end of tunnel cause an iris holes a small black hole. One black hole to another we would become dark matter. I know that's why we're so afraid of my theory. Gravity is easy. Accepting we aren't center of everything is difficult. Not the center of universe. Or solar system or vortex etc. by now I hope we can further understand our place. And my 3 monkey theorem. 3 eye colors one brown eyed ape. Doesn't make sense to me. If you just look at a sound board you can tell we're all going through mitosis. From the trees to the stars (seraphim.). From an alpha that started it to the one that died and gave birth back to the alpha. From one family to the next. God is the one all be alpha. Even if there was a nothing it would be a something we have no real word for absents of everything. Everything you can think up is out there every kind of universe. Even if God was 0 there would be a -0 being his wife. Even if he was 1 and zero was truly absents there would be a God. 1 or zero could be alpha of all. It looks easy after someone says it but it sure is hard when no one knows.